1. Paper should be written in JMCMS Journal format.
2. References and in-text citations are not in JMCMS format. More references should be included and sequentially/adequately arranged, as cited in the text.
3. In the name of the name paper, Detector spelling is incorrectly written. The types of gas to be detected should also be mentioned in the name of the paper; it is highly expected.
4. In this paper, the literature review is absent, where many works are present. Thus, authors are advised to add a literature review in the paper.
5. It seems that this work is basically a project turns in the paper. Thus, it is advised to the authors that instead of using project term, authors need to use paper.
6. Authors need to Modify Abstract and conclusion more appropriately.
7. Conflict of interest regarding article should be mention in the text.

2. Similar types of works are also available. With respect to novelty, authors are advised to add a comparative study with existing similar implementation; otherwise, the research's impact is not established.
3. Actual circuit implementation is not given here. How the circuit is works that are also not described in the paper. So, authors are advised to add a process flow chart or algorithm and describe it very clearly.
4. It is advised to the authors that the proper system model needs to discuss, otherwise, just describing component description is valueless.
5. Conclusion should be written in a precise manner. Conclusion is too short, which does not specify the aim and objective of the paper.
7. Conflict of interest regarding article should be mention in the text.
